ATD QUART MONDE OF FRANCE SELECTED AS FINALIST FOR GLOBAL PLURALISM AWARD

GLOBAL CENTRE FOR PLURALISM ANNOUNCES ORGANIZATION FIGHTING POVERTY IN FRANCE'S SUBURBS IS A TOP CANDIDATE FOR PRESTIGIOUS AWARD

NEW YORK – June 20, 2017 – In recognition of outstanding achievements to support more inclusive societies worldwide, the Global Centre for Pluralism, an international education and research organization founded by His Highness the Aga Khan and the Government of Canada, announced the 10 finalists for the 2017 Global Pluralism Award. Selected by a renowned international jury, ATD Quart Monde of France was chosen as a finalist for this year's inaugural award for their work to empower marginalized communities in the suburbs of France's major cities.

"We are witnessing societies worldwide becoming more deeply divided. The need for respect and acceptance across differences is all the more urgent," said John McNee, Secretary General of the Global Centre for Pluralism. "The work of the 10 finalists of the Global Pluralism Award, and all the nominees, is a testament to what can be achieved when pluralism is put into practice."

The international Award jury, chaired by the Rt. Hon. Joe Clark, former Prime Minister of Canada, is comprised of five independent members from various disciplines. The jury reviewed over 200 nominations from 43 countries. After careful consideration, the finalists were selected for their extraordinary, innovative work to advance respect for diversity.

ATD Quart Monde, headquartered in Paris, stood out among the nominations for its work with the most vulnerable, disadvantaged and excluded in France – as well as in 30 other countries - to empower them, give them back their dignity and help lift them out of poverty. In France, ATD Quart Monde helped pass a number of laws, including a minimum welfare income for the unemployed (1988), universal health coverage (2000), and the enforceable right to housing (2007). Half of the social assistance in France today stems from ATD's actions.

This year, ATD Quart Monde is leading the international “Stop Poverty Campaign” which is a year-long event that stresses the message of “leaving no one behind” by working and coming together to stop poverty.

Of the 10 finalists, three winners will be recognized at the inaugural Global Pluralism Award Ceremony, which takes place in the fall of 2017 in Ottawa, Canada. Each winner will receive $50,000 to further their work.
